Revision 8101d23b - 09/02/2013 06:55 PM - J. Wienke

fixes #1081: add not about deb source packages

We do not provide them, so a deb-src line should not be added.

History

#1 - 07/17/2012 11:20 AM - J. Wienke

- Subject changed from The debian package manager trys automatically to download the source code. to Precise GUI package manager automatically proposes a source DEB source, manual should inform about deactivating it again.

More precisely, on precise the GUI package manager automatically adds also source location when you create a new entry for packages, but our server does not provide source DEBs. We should mention in the manual, that the source package line needs to be deactivated.
