Description

http://docs.cor-lab.org/ » rsb-python

There is an entry called trunk/html which should probably not be there.

I deleted that entry two days ago from the server. If it appeared again we probably do something wrong with the upload.

The rsb-python-0.7 job published to that wrong location. I have fixed the job and deleted the files on cordocs once again. Should be resolved completely once the cron job regenerates the index page.
